Subject: Time Limit Notice - X082

Broadcast Message to all DPA Staff & Case Management Service Providers
From the 60-Month Project Team

Time Limit Notice – X082

The X082 – ‘Important Time Limit Notice’ will be mailed today, April 1, 2002. This notice will be sent to Temporary Assistance families that have used between 24 and 57 months of assistance and have a case status of open, pending or suspended. For two-parent families, the count for the adult with the highest number of months used will be displayed in the notice.

Families that have used 58 or more months are being advised about the number of months they have left through case review staffings. In addition, families that live in an exempt Alaska Native village will not receive this notice.

The notice will pull the number of months used from the CLPM screen, and will include the issued April Temporary Assistance benefit. By scheduling this notice job for the end of March, (after Regular Run Issuance but before END OF MONTH ROLLOVER) the number of months used that is displayed in the X082 will include April.

Please note that after the END OF MONTH ROLLOVER in March the PRAW will show the number of months used through April, and the CLPM will display one more month than the PRAW because it includes the auto-authorized benefits for May. PRAW reads the ‘Issuance’ information (TAIH) and CLPM reads the ‘Authorized’ (TABH) information.
